The Leibniz ScienceCampus »Eastern Europe – Global Area« (EEGA) is an overall integrative platform and collaborative research network that focuses on the development of new research perspectives on Eastern Europe's changing role in current and historical processes of globalization. It supports and connects both senior and junior researchers from within and outside Eastern Europe at universities and research institutes. Moreover, it is committed to promoting knowledge transfer between science and the public. EEGA's mission is to promote collaborative research and knowledge exchange through joint research activities and engagement projects, connecting senior and junior researchers at universities and research institutes, tailored audiences and the public with a focus on the self-reflexive understanding of Eastern Europe through globalization projects.

To achieve its main aims, the EEGA concentrates on four main areas of activity:

- Postdoc Support
- Formation of the Scientific Field
- Communication with the Public and Multipliers
- Teaching and Young Talents

Support for professional development of Postdocs both from within and outside Eastern Europe within and outside of academia in form of distinct programmes and training workshops
